SERIOUSLY INJURED

Was Joseph Hilton, Who Fell From Moving Freight Cars While Switching Near Taylor Tobacco Company's Switch.

While engaged in helping to switch some cars on the L. & N. line near the J. P. Taylor Tobacco Company's switch yesterday, Joseph Hilton had a very narrow escape from instant death.

Mr. Hilton with the crew was engaged in transferring some cars from the switch to the C. & O. track, and he was acting as brakeman, having three cars to work on. While he was applying the hand brake on one of the cars he slipped and fell between two of the cars and was dragged a short distance before the train stopped and he crawled out from under the car. He was soon found by members of the crew and Dr. Harover, the company's physician, was called. No broken bones nor bad cuts were found but Mr. Hilton said that his head was paining him considerably, and it is feared that he may have suffered some internal injuries.

Mr. Hilton has been in the employ of the L. & N. railroad for some ten or twelve years as a freight conductor, and it is only recently that he has become a brakeman, owing to a slackness in the business of that road.

He is a married man and has two children.

He was taken to the Paris Hospital this morning and he will undergo a more thorough examination.

BISHOP WOODCOCK TO BE HONORED ON TENTH ANNIVERSARY OF HIS CONSECRATION.

Louisville, Ky., January 22.—Arrangements have been made public for a fitting celebration of the tenth anniversary of the consecration of the Rt. Rev. Charles E. Woodcock, as bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Kentucky. The consecration anniversary this year comes on St. Paul's day, January 25, and the celebration will begin the day before and conclude the day after, which will extend the event over a period of three days.

Tuesday night, January 26, Bishop and Mrs. Woodcock will hold an open reception at the cathedral, beginning at 8 o'clock. The reception will be open to all, and from present indications it will be largely attended. It is expected that a large representation of Episcopalians from out in the state will come to Louisville for the celebration.

TOBACCO SITUATION AGAIN SERIOUS.

The tobacco situation in the Burley districts of Kentucky was considered in Lexington yesterday at a meeting and thoughtful men of practical experience and it is to be hoped that as a result of their deliberations there may come some relief from the present distressing condition of affairs.

Evidently there is something radically wrong with the tobacco market.

With an apparent shortage of twenty-two million pounds, and with the cost of production to the grower at approximately seven cents a pound it is difficult to understand how the average prices can remain at between eight and nine cents unless there are some controlling factors which are purely artificial and in a degree criminal.

Certainly the grower can not market his crop at eight or nine cents when its costs him seven cents to produce it, and when he sees the manufacturer selling the finished product at three or four hundred per cent profit, he fails to understand how such things can be without some unlawful juggling with the fruits of his toil.

The meeting yesterday in the main was conservative in its tone, though none the less determined to resort to every possible means of arriving at some clear understanding of the underlying causes of the faults complained of.

If the big tobacco companies which formerly constituted the "Trust," are again violating the letter and spirit of the law under which the trust was supposed to have been dissolved, it is the duty of the Federal authorities if possible to discover the criminals and bring them to justice.

It is not enough that the landowners of Kentucky and other states should seek a remedy through reduction of the acreage and thereby bear the full brunt of the remedy.

Naturally, good husbandry would dictate methods of economy and efficiency in the managing of the farm, but if the existing low prices are due to unfair and unlawful acts by those seemingly in control of both ends of the tobacco market the parties responsible for these unlawful acts, and not the farmer and the tenant who grow the tobacco, should be the greatest sufferers, once the real source of the trouble is ascertained.—Lexington Leader.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED SINCE 1815.

A hundred years ago, during the Waterloo campaign, it required three days for the Duke of Wellington to send a message from the battle front to England, and three days more to receive a reply. But Sir John French, the British field marshal, a hundred years later, makes a visit to England and is able to keep in direct touch with the army by means of the telegraph. Sir John visited Walmer Castle, the home of Prime Minister Asquith, where a council of war was held; went also to London, where he was present at a series of councils during the next two days, spent a considerable time in his own home, receiving messages every hour from headquarters in France, and in no way felt that he was handicapped by his absence from the battle line. This is only one indication of the great changes which have come over the methods of making war in the last hundred years.—Providence Journal.

IN DESPERATE STRAIGHTS.

Mr. Bryan is in desperate straits. His warmest friends have begun to say, "Mr. Bryan is a good man, but—."—New York Sun.

The doings in Europe sure are enough to make the innocent bystander sit up and take notice.

ENGLAND STILL MISTRESS OF THE SEA.

Germany probably has the second-best navy. On it she has spent hundreds of millions of dollars, with England especially in mind; but in actual war with England this navy so far has done Germany very little real good. Her merchant ships have been driven from the sea. English transports have carried troops to the French coast at will under her nose.

Half a dozen German cruisers—until they were run down and sunk—caused some flurries in marine insurance rates, but their actual injury to British commerce was fairly negligible. England's command of the sea seems virtually as secure as though Germany had no navy.

That is what a poor second best must generally come to—it is like the horse that was just good enough to lose the race. Our navy, matched against England's, would no doubt be virtually worthless. So far as England, and her ally, Japan, are concerned, there is no degree of reasonable preparedness short of a fleet that will equal or outclass them both.

We must simply take our chances that there will be no war with them. As circumstances compel us to take some chances on peace, we are willing to take a few more.—Saturday Evening Post.

THE REAL DEVIL OF IT ALL.

If Democrats alone only had to enjoy the hard times they always bring it would be perfectly satisfactory, but it happens to include all of us patriots who save the country when it is to be saved as well as hold the stop-watch on the sunshine and rain. That's the real devil of it all.—Portsmouth Star.

In a Hole.

Uncle Joe Cannon said at a Danville political meeting last month:

"Finance such as that, gentlemen, will land the country in the hole where Mrs. Bill Smith found herself."

"Mrs. Bill Smith spent with her husband a two-weeks' vacation at Atlantic City. It was an extravagant vacation. It cleaned them out."

"As they rode back home on the train, sunburned and fatigued, their pocketbooks empty and the next pay day two weeks off, Mrs. Smith sighed and said: '

"Well, anyhow, Bill, we'll be all right as soon as we get home. The morning we started off I hid a $10 bill under the pink plush album in the parlor."

"Yes," said Bill, grimly, "yes, I know you did. I found it."

A WORD WITH WOMEN

Valuable Advice for Maysville Readers.

Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow.

You can tell it is kidney trouble if the secretions are dark colored, contain sediment; the passages are too frequent or scanty. Then help the weakened kidneys. Don't expect them to get well alone.

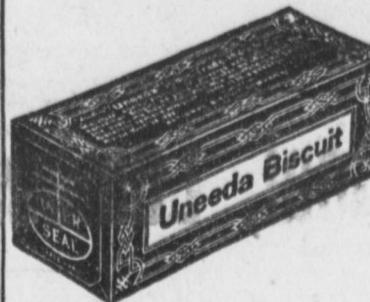

Doan's Kidney Pills have won the praise of thousands of women. They are endorsed at home—Read this Maysville woman's convincing statement:

Mrs. Dora Mefford, Maysville, Ky., says: "I had been feeling poorly for some time, before I knew that my kidneys were at fault. I was nervous and dizzy and my back and head ached. I rested poorly and mornings I was all tired out. I read in local paper how neighbor had been cured of kidney trouble by Doan's Kidney Pills. I used them and before long I was a great deal better. I was able to sleep well and they improved my health."

SIGNS POINT TO LONG PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN.

Washington, January 23.—Business men from Maine to California and from Washington to Florida are authors of protests reaching the capital against the opening of the presidential campaign two years before the time of election. Some are inclined to blame the President's speech at Indianapolis for starting the discussion. Others, more closely in touch with the drift of affairs in Washington, realize that the campaign already was launched before the President went to Indiana.

The protest against a long campaign are made in the interest of business. Even in the most prosperous times a presidential campaign has a depressing effect on trade. Now, if the campaign is to be prolonged, the effect will be felt more keenly than ever before, the protestants contend.

Cabinet members, Senators and Representatives realize the truth of the assertions made by the business men. They are even more anxious to stop the trend of affairs, but they realize that a combination of unusual circumstances is going to make the coming race for the presidency an unusually long and hard one.

Vice President Marshall and Speaker Clark had something to do with starting the campaign discussion by making announcements that Mr. Wilson must be the standard bearer in 1916. Certain Republican leaders also played their parts in bringing the subject to the front. The Republican successes in the elections last November convinced the leaders that the Republican nomination in 1916 would be worth working for. Since that time there has been especial activity on the part of Senator Borah and Representative Mann. They have lost no opportunity to defend the party they represent. They have been nearly as ready to criticize the Democratic administration. In addition to the Idaho Senator and the Illinois Representative, the same tactics have been adopted by several other Republican leaders in Congress who are supposed to have heard the buzzing of the presidential bee.

ANGEL OF MERCY

On Perryville Battlefield, Mrs. Emily Huff Passes Away.

Mrs. Emily Huff, aged 91 years, is dead at the home of her son, Mr. Tifford Huff, in the west end of the county. Mrs. Huff was noted for her hospitality and goodness of heart and was loved by all her neighbors.

When the battle of Perryville took place around her home she was an angel of mercy to the wounded soldiers and many in pain were eased into eternal rest by her and many owed their lives to her ministering. The morning after the great battle she was out on the field of carnage and felt some one pull at her dress skirt as she passed by. Looking down she saw a Confederate soldier whom she had thought dead, who could just barely speak. He pleaded with her between moans to put a clean shirt on him as his garment was matted and stiff with blood. She did so, and saw that he was carried into a house near by. He finally recovered and returned to his home in Georgia. Several years afterward he wrote to her thanking her for her care and saying that he always felt that he owed his life to her. Mrs. Huff carried her kindly Christianity all through her long life and leaves a record of many good deeds.—Harrodsburg Herald.

ASHLAND AROUSED OVER MISSING CHILD.

(Ashland Independent.)

The people of Ashland are becoming greatly wrought up and justly so, over the strange disappearance of Miss Oleta Reeves, the little 13-year-old school girl who disappeared so suddenly on Tuesday morning, January 12.

On the above date this little girl left her home as usual with her books under her arm en route to school at the John Grant Crabb building. She did not reach the school house that morning and since that time nothing has been heard from her. She has disappeared as though the earth had opened and swallowed her up.

Superintendent Bradner of the public schools, has been very vigilant in his efforts to locate this little girl. He has worked almost day and night on the case since that time. He has run down numerous clews himself and has interested others in doing likewise, but all without avail. Superintendent Bradner has also offered a reward of $50 for any information leading to the location of this little girl. The City Council also did its part by appropriating $50 to pay for the expense in instituting a search.

IT'S A MORAL CINCH.

That the fellow who calls you up at 2 a. m. on the telephone by mistake is going to call you down. He is going to say: "What? Ain't this six-eleven-sixty-six? Well, why in blazes ain't it?"

That the telephone is going to be busy for half an hour when you want to get your wife in a hurry.

That the fellow is going to marry the girl before you get to the end of the book.

That the good things on the quick lunch bill of fare are going to be gone before you get there.

That the automobile is going to balk just as soon as you pick up some one to whom you have been praising your car all the year.

That the lady with the large hat will get peevish at you when she runs into you and twists it out of shape.

TAFT ON MARRIAGE.

In an address before the Hebrew Technical School for Girls in New York last Saturday, former President Taft spoke at some length on marriage and here is one thing he said:

I was glad to see in your president's report that only 260 of your girl graduates out of 2,700 got married. That impressed me as showing great sense on the part of the girls. I am not opposed to marriage. No; I am a believer in it. But when a marriage is forced by circumstances conjugal life is not so desirable as single blessedness for the woman. Many women remain single and devote their lives to a noble purpose.

C. & O. MAN OPTIMISTIC.

Washington.—Business and railroad conditions in the United States were pictured to President Wilson as slowly improving by Frank Trumbull of New York, chairman of the railroad legislative advisory committee and chairman of the boards of the Chesapeake & Ohio and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroads. Mr. Trumbull said he did not expect a great business boom, but that gradual betterment of conditions was noticeable throughout the country.

Medill McCormick announced that he had resigned as a member of the National Progressive Committee. McCormick is again a Republican.

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctor'd lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work."

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

Cabinet Meetings At Night Don't Suit —Washington Melange.

Washington, January 23.—While wide differences of opinion usually prevail in Congress, it is also true that there are nearly always some members occupying a middle ground. But this does not seem to apply to the controversy over the government ownership of commercial vessels. Practically every member seems to be either radically in favor or radically opposed to this measure. In the discussion of the question many appear to have lost sight of the fact that it is an emergency measure. If the plan should be carried for a permanent institution it is certain that the friends of the project would be few, although some of the arguments in favor of the system apply with equal force to a permanent institution.

OPPOSE IMMIGRATION BILL.

New York, January 23.—Efforts to obtain effective opposition to the Smith Burnett Immigration bill, which contains the literacy test, so that President Wilson may be moved to veto it, will be made at a mass meeting to be held in Cooper Union tomorrow night under the auspices of the New York Non-Partisan Citizenship Committee.

The opponents of the bill contend that the literacy test will serve no good purpose, but will result in the debasement especially of immigrants from certain countries and from Russia, where Jews contend that government restrictions hamper their efforts to gain education.

Those favoring the government ownership of vessels to be used during emergencies and for the advancement of American commerce where discrimination is being shown, point to the millions of dollars that will be wrung from American producers by ship owners while the European war lasts. Sixty millions in additional freight charges will be collected on the cotton crop of this season alone, it is estimated. Those opposing the project fear that it will be the entering wedge to a general system of government ownership. They predict that it would be followed by the taking over of the railroads and telegraphs. With regard to the ownership of vessels, they claim there is no limit set on the scheme, which may lead very far afield. Danger of international complications if contraband of war should be discovered on board a government ship is not minimized by the enemies of the plan. Many take the view that it is simply ship subsidy in disguise.

Treasury Department reports show that the income of the nation is not keeping pace with the expenses. Just what steps will have to be taken to remedy this situation is the source of considerable worry on the part of those who will have to provide ways and means of making up the deficit.

The war tax has proven very unpopular and any suggestion looking to its increase is certain to meet with a storm of protest, which would be particularly undesirable at this time. Business depression has caused a falling off in the income and corporation taxes. An additional loss of revenue totaling $45,000,000 will come if sugar is placed on the free list as provided.

Governor Spry of Idaho is to act as castmaster and former Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks is to be the principal speaker at a McKinley birthday banquet to be given in Salt Lake City.

Wednesday will be the fifty-sixth birthday anniversary of the German Emperor, at the present time the most conspicuous figure in Europe. In view of the general conditions arising from the war the Emperor has requested that the Germans omit the public festivities with which it has been customary to celebrate the anniversary.

OKLAHOMA TO HAVE AN ILLITERACY COMMISSION.

Superintendent R. H. Wilson is preparing to present to the Legislature a bill, which has for its purpose the banning of illiteracy from the state of Oklahoma. He is following, more or less, the plan adopted by the state of Kentucky, which was brought about by the activities of Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart. This is in line with Superintendent Wilson's policy to devote the larger portion of his time during the next administration to the betterment of rural schools.—The Daily Oklahoman.

WOMAN'S FORWARD MOVEMENT CLOSED.

With $8,000 raised, the Woman's Forward Movement, organized to raise $20,000 for the Illiteracy Commission, has closed. Expenses of the organization are to be deducted from this amount, which will leave from $4,000 to $5,000. The remainder of the $20,000 needed by the Illiteracy Commission will be raised by Mrs. Core Wilson Stewart and Dr. J. G. Crabbe, a committee appointed by the Illiteracy Commission last May to raise money.

The advent of a banking syndicate into the Missouri Pacific directorate was welcomed in a statement by George J. Gould.

65,000 HORSES PURCHASED.

John R. Townsend, a prominent horse man of Goshen, N. Y., estimates that something like 65,000 horses have been purchased in the United States in the last three months for the French and British armies. Only about one-half of this number has yet been shipped to Europe, he says. Mr. Townsend was for several weeks engaged in buying warhorses in the west and is therefore in close touch with the situation. The difficulty of finding ships to take them over and the prevalence of sickness among the horses are the only things that stand in the way of much larger exports to the war zone.

BOMBS

DROPPED ON DUNKIRK AND 20 PEOPLE KILLED — THOUSANDS OF AIRCRAFT FLYING OVER EUROPE.

Terrible Stories of Suffering In the Eastern War Zone.

Paris, January 22.—An official statement given out this evening says:

"A group of German aeroplanes attacked Dunkirk and nearby coast villages today. They dropped about 80 bombs. There were 20 known victims of the raid of whom seven are dead. One warehouse full of merchandise was bombed."

The French and English aeroplanes pursued the enemy and brought down one of the hostile machines. The pilot and observer were made prisoners."

Starving, Freezing and Hunted By Wolves Are Horrors Faced By War-Stricken People.

London, January 22.—A dispatch from Kiev, Russia, to Reuter's Telegram Company says:

"Hiding from the Austrians, who are retreating from Bukowina, the population of the Carpathians have left their homes and are living in pits dug in the deep snow, where many are perishing from exposure and starvation. Their plight is rendered more dangerous by the hungry wolves that are hunting them."

The suffering in Belgium, which the help of America has gone for to relieve, is for the moment in the background when compared to the destination of noncombatants in Palestine, Poland and the Carpathians. From Palestine Jewish colonists continue to flee to Egypt, being conveyed as rapidly as possible by the American cruiser Tennessee.

The destitution of Poland is said to be terrible and a new appeal for aid has been issued by Ignace Paderewski and Henry Sienkiewicz, who speak for all factions. It is said that the situation in Poland is far worse than it is in in

WINTER BASEBALL JOKES, (Times-Star.)

Organized ball is up against it good and plenty. That story of trading players for dogs has roused the frenzied wrath of the American Kennel Club.

The waiter is one of the few things that can be tipped without losing its balance.

On a gamble, which is the worst pest? The man who wants to tell you about the plans for his new house, the man who repeats what his baby says, the fighter who alibis his knockout or the ball player, who tries to explain a bomb play?

It's a queer world. The pitcher who grows about being overworked in August is always the first to sign up for a winter tour, where he'll be expected to pitch every other day.

The problem of finding employment for the white hopes seems near a satisfactory solution. Why not hire them guards to maintain order at a chess game?
